THE STORMING OF KIN CHOU

FURTHER DETAILS OF THE BATTLE

Russians Swept From Their Stronghold by Japanese— Severe Fighting Raged for Several Hours—Losses Heavy.

Tokio, May 27.—Noon: The Japanese army swept the Russians from Kin Chou yesterday morning and in a desperate attack stormed the almost impregnable position of the Russians on Nanshan hill, west of Tallenwan. The battle raged in the hills all through the night and telegrams from Japanese headquarters report theengagement stil in progress and that the Japanese are pursuing the Russians south from Nanshan and head of Tallenwan bay.

The Russians had made elaborate preparations to check the Japanese movement south on Lio Tung peninsula toward Port Arthur. They had fortified the high ground on the south shore of Tallenwan bay. The extreme Russian right was at Hushangtao, the extreme left at Nansan hill. This hill was the strongest part of the line and a series of batteries strongly emplaced crowded its crest, while rifle pits extended around its side. Mines had been plted toward the hill and around the base on the northern and eastern sides were stretched well made irc entanglements. Another line of defense protected with wire entanglements extended from Yen Chia Tung near the head of Tallenwan bay. A strong Russian force of infantry and artillery was posted at Kin Chou. The Japanese first occupied a line of hills to the east of Kin Chou, back of which the attacking force assumed in complete security. The Russians apparently were all well employed to draw a Japanese attack last Saturday, for their bitteries opened fire on the enemy that day. The Japanese refused to be drawn in until the positions of the Russians, their guns and their strength had bene fully developed. To this end the Jepanese began a series of careful reconnoisances, their officers working their way close enough to the Russian position to draw the enemy's fire. They thus secured fragments of shells for the purpose of ascertaining the calliber of the Russian guns.

Wednesday morning at half past five the Japanese attacked Kin Chou and for three hours they had an artilery duel with batteries on Nanshan hill. Russian runners searched the Japanese lines with their fire, but failed to inflict much damage. Thebattle was renewed at dawn on Thursday. Three Japanese gunboats entered Kin Chou and by incorporation with artillery on sh ore shelled Ressian positions on Nanshan hill. A Russian gunboat in Tallen bay steamed close to shore and shelled the Japanese. From dawn bat teries on both sides hammered away at each other. At an early hour the Japanese infantry moved forward and at twenty minutes past five Thursday morning they entered Kinchou, the Russians retiring to the south. Fighting continued into Thursday night, the Japanese pressing to the south and storming Nanshan hill. They followed the receating Russians through the southern hills. No information is given concerning losses. They probably were heavy on both sides.

London, May 27.—A dispatch to the Central News from Harbin says Japanese losses during fighting at Kinchou are said to be 12,000 men killed. It is said these figures are confirmed by an official dispatch. Fighting is still going on in the vicinity of Kinchou.

A BLOODY AFFAIR.

Tokio, May 27, 5 p. m.—Reports received here indicate the storming of Nanshan hill yesterday was a bloody affair. The Japanese first centered their fire on the Russian batteries, in which work they were aided by four gunboats from Kin Chou bay. They succeeded in silencing many of the enemy's guns. The Russians had constructed a series of trenches around the hill on a terrace protected by wire entanglements and other such devices.

The Japanese made a series of rushes, but they were in vain. Deadly rifle and cannon fire of the enemy checked them repeatedly. Finally at three in the afternoon the Japanese reformed and stormed the crest of the hill. The Russians held their positions doggedly and it was 7 o'clock in the evening before the Japanese finally gained possession of the ridge.

FOUGHT AGAINST ODDS.

Tokio, May 27, 8 p. m.—A Japanese officer of high rank made the following statement to the Associated Press:

"The Japanese in attacking Kin Chou and Nashan hill had to fight against great odds. The Russians were in full command of the strategical advantages afforded by nature and these advantages were augmented by the newest inventions for defense. The forts on Nashan hill were armed with heavy guns. The Japanese had only field guns, heavy guns being unavailable on account of difficulties of transportation.

"Our army deserves great credit for having driven the Russians from this stronghold; it was a feat previously considered impossible. Our losses have been heavy, but we have gained the strongest point barring our way to investment of Port Arthur."

Chicago, May 27.—A special to the News from Tokio says: "Japanese troops fought bravely for sixteen hours yesterday under extremely heavy fire before clearing Russians from the southern heights at Kin Chou after a brave resistance. The Muscovites made several attempts to retake the hill, but after much loss of life retired finally from the narrowest part of the peninsula, which had been held so long."

TOGO'S REPORT.

Tokio, May 27, 4:30 p. m.—The following report has been received from Vice Admiral Togo:

"The gunboats Thukishi, Heiyen, Amagi and Chokai and first torpedo boat flotilla, under Captain Nishiyama, reached Kin Chou bay Wednesday evening. From dawn Thursday the vessels co-operated with the army in bombarding Suchiton. The Amagi and Chokai went in close and bombarded all day. At eleven in the morning the enemy retreated from Suchiton, but they continued to fire from a position behind Suchiton. Our casualties were ten, including Captain Hayashi of the Chokai, who was killed."

COAST BLOCKADED.

Chicago, May 27.—A special to the News from Chefoo says:

"Japan announces that the entire coast of Liao Tung peninsula south of the line between Pitsewo on the east and Pulantien on the west is in a state of effective blockade by the Japanese navy. The declaration states that the blockade will be maintained.

"The Japanese government has evidently refrained from declaring the peninsula in a state of blockade until now because it is held in international law that a blockade to be effective must be maintained by land as well as by sea. The United States has always maintained that a proclamation or ideal blockade of an extensive coast, not supported by the actual presence of a naval power competent to enforce its simultaneous, constant and effective operation on every point of such coast, is illegal throughout its whole extent, even for ports which may be in actual blockade. The 'governmental' blockade proclamation by Japan throws the burden of proof on vessels attempting to run the blockade."

LEGATION'S REPORT.

Washington, May 27.—The Japanese legation received the following detils of the attack on Kin Chou:

"The enemy built several covered trenches around the fort and Nanshan hill and held the place stubbornly under strong defensive works. Nevertheless, after several attempts the Japanese finally succeeded in taking the enemy's position by storm and driving them toward Nan Kue Ling. This severe fight continued sixteen hours. Admiral Togo telegraphs that a report was sent to him by wireless telegraph from the captain commanding a detached squadron consisting of four gunboats and a torpedo flotilla to the effect the squadron reached Kin Chou May 26, and on witnessing our army occupying forts on the hill he squadron withdrew from the scene of action. The captain of the gunboat Shokai was killed and nine others killed and wounded. Damage to the vessels was insignificant."

NEAR PORT ARTHUR.

London, May 28.—The Tokio correspondent of the Telegraph says he learns that Japanese troops are now within twelve miles of Port Arthur and that the Russians suffered heavier casualties than the Japanese, who have taken guns and other material and a few prisoners. He predicts a further surprise, as Japan is now increasing her efforts in all directions.

The Tokio correspondent of the Chronicle says the Japanese captured many guns at Kin Chou.

St. Petersburg, May 28.—News of the Japanese victory at Kin Chou, which was foreshadowed several days ago by rumors of persistent fighting there, was published on a Russian holiday, the anniversary of the coronation of Emperor Nicholas. Curiously enough, the news of the Japanese disaster afloat came on a similar holiday, the emperor's birthday.

JURY FAILED TO BE MOVED

PRISONER WHO FEIGNS INSANITY FOUND GUILTY

Man on Trial for Trying to Secure Body of Iroquois Fire Victim Creates Sensation in Court.

Chicago, May 27.—Choking and gasping and with eyes rolling with terror, Mahnken, accused of fraudulently identifying the body of Mrs. Frank R. Greenwald, an Iroquois fire victim, in order to steal her money, suddenly jumped to his feet in Judge Clifford's court room to day and pointed frantically at an imaginary specter which he thought stood confronting him. While the spectators looked on in terro the man frothed at the lips and waved his arms wildly in the air. He was overpowered and thrown to the floor, where it took half a dozen policemen to hold him. Paroxysm after paroxysm shook him and he had to be manacled and taken into an anteroom.

When quiet was finally restored Mahnken's lawyer decided to let the case go to the jury without argument. Almost immediately the twelve men filed back and the foreman announced a verdict of guilty. If the insanity was feigned it failed to move the jury. The technical charge against Mahnken was perjury and it was proved that he had taken the body of Mrs. Greenwald from the morgue and had it buried as his aunt. His motive was to gain possession of $100 found on the body.

Scranton, Pa., May 27.—Stephen Haggerty, aged 26, who has shown signs of being mentally unbalanced, made a murderous attack on four members of his family at their home in Hawley, Pa., early this morning. With a father's hatchet he attacked his brother Anthony, who was asleep. Leaving Anthony for dead, the insane man rushed to the room occupied by his sisters, Winifred and Bridget. He crushed Bridget's skull and broke Winifred's collar bone. Haggerty next proceeded to the room of his brothers, Eugene and Patrick, whom he attacked. Eugene's skull was fractured. By this time the father had been aroused and he and Patrick overpowered Stephen. Eugene and Bridget will die.

Several weeks ago Mrs. Hannan O'Keefe, who lived next door to the Haggertys, was murdered, her body being horribly mutilated. John Steelts was tried for the crime and was acquitted last week. It is now believed Haggerty was the murderer.

M. P. CONFERENCE

Clears Way for Union by Adopting Report From Committee

Washington, May 27.—The Methodist Protestant conference to day completely cleared the way for union between itself and every one of the four denominations with which negotiations are pending, by adoption of the supplementary report from its committee on union. If two-thirds of the various conferences vote for union with the Primitive Methodists the union will be accomplished as far as the Methodist Protestants are concerned. With respect to the Methodist Episcopal church, whenever it shal lappoint a commission to consider the question of union the president of the general conference is authorized to apopint a like committee to consider the terms. The president of the conference also is given authority to call the conference together whenever any commission on union shall request it.

THE METHODISTS.

Los Angeles, Cala., May 27.—By a vote of 441 to 188 the Methodist general conference to day decided not to make any change in the church discipline in the matter of prohibited amusements. Sixty-five petitoins had been received, fifty-five of which opposed any change in the discipline on this point and ten favored various changes.

The majority report on this subject, which was adopted, issues a note of warning and entreaty "particularly against theatre going, dancing and such games of chance as are frequently associated with gambling, all of which have been found to be antagonistic to vital piety, promotive of worldliness and especially pernicious to youth."

IN FAVOR OF UNION.

Buffalo, N. Y., May 27. The Presbyterian general assembly of the United States to day declared in favor of union with the Cumberland Presbyterian church by a vote so nearly unanimous that it was not counted. The resolution included not only favorable action on the report, but recommended certain other steps be taken to secure union of the churches and to make plain the position of the church.

The question of proposed basis of union will now go to presbyteries. If it is approved by a vote of two-thirds of them the necessary steps will be taken at the next general assembly to effect union.

IMPROVEMENT IN RETAIL TRADE

HELPED BY WEATHER AND INDUSTRIAL OUTLOOK

Retailers Rather Than Jobbers Are Making Most of Purchases —Dun and Bradstreet Reports Differ as to Situation.

New York, May 27.—Dun's trade review for the week says: Retail trade is stimulated by seasonable weather and the industrial outlook is brighter on the whole, although several adverse factors have appeared. A big dry goods auction sale opened with unexpectedly large attendance and good prices were secured. It is particularly gratifying to note retailers rather than jobbers have made most of the purchases, thus providing prompt distribution into consuming channels throughout the country. Manufacturing lines report slight improvement at woolen mills and shoe factories.

Railway earnings thus far reported for May fall 3.7 per cent short of the same time last year, but foreign commerce at this port for the last week shows gains of $1,637,200 exports and $19,545 imports.

It is increasingly difficult to find encouraging conditions pertaining to the iron and steel industry. Purchases are small and frequently effected at further concessions, although it is difficult to find definitely lower quotations except for pig iron.

Failures this week were 226 in the United States, against 206 last year.

BRADSTREET'S REVIEW.

New York, May 27.—Bradstreet's says: The situation is rather more irregular. Distributive trade, stimulated by better weather in some sections, has improved, but is still behind a year ago. Cereal crops, particularly winter wheat, show improvement. The industrial situation is hardly so satisfactory, a slowing down being noted in many leading industries; the number of idle persons is growing and unskilled labor shows in some sections woeful lack of foresight and knowledge of real conditions. Current railway earnings continue to show declines from a year ago.

Telegrams from western markets show livening up of distributive trade. In the northwest rains at some markets have been unfavorable to current distribution.

Dullness in the iron trade is responsible for further weakening in pig iron. It is generally a buyers' market, but values are low and third and fourth quarter requirements will soon have to be considered. The copper market has moved lower this week, as has also lead. The dry goods market has shown more activity this week than for a long time.

Wheat, including flour, exports for the week were 1,132,000 bushels, against 4,678,000 last year; July 1, 1903, to date, 125,933,000, against 204,161,000 last season.

Corn, 231,000 bushels, against 1,780,000 a year ago; July 1, 1903, to date, 49,948,000 bushels, against 61,372,000 last season.

VATICAN CONTROVERSY

Course of the French Government Approved by Chamber of Deputies.

Paris, May 27.—After an exciting debate, in which Premier Combes and Foreign Minister Delcasse set forth the action and purposes of the government toward the vatican, the chamber of deputies to day, by a vote of 323 to 95, approved the course of the government in recalling M. Nisard, ambassador to the vatican, and rejected all propositions of the extreme element for immediate dissolution of relations between the church and state.

A resolution proposed by M. Ferrette, republican nationalist, inviting the government to negotiate with Pope Pius for separation of church and state was defeated 307 to 18.

A motion by M. Allard, socialist, to break off all relations with the Vatican and denounce the concordat was defeated 385 to 146.

Premier Combes took the initiative in resisting all efforts to force the government to extreme action and his request that all questions regarding the separation of church and state go over until next January has the effect of postponing separation beyond the present session of parliament.

RHEUMATIC PAINS RELIEVED

The prompt relief from the severe pains of sciatica and rheumatism which is afforded by Chamberlain pain Balm, is alone worth many times its cost. Mr. Willard C. Vail, of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., writes: "I am troubled with rheumatism and neuralgia of the nerves and Chamberlain's Pain Balm gives relief quicker than any liniment I have ever used." For sale by all leading druggists.

CONCRETE MIXER.

A Journal representative Friday witnessed the operation of the concrete mixer now being used by Contractor Franks on the Westminster pavement. The machine is a marvel of mechanical genius and works to perfection. The wheelbarrows of crushed rock, sand and cement are dumped into a car from a raised platform. When this car is filled, by the operation of a lever, the car is lifted to a hopper, from which the materials are dumped into a revolving cylinder, which is the mixer proper. The cones of the mixer are open and by means of hose attachments the water is turned into the mixer in right proportions. When the materials are thoroughly mixed, by means of another lever they are thrown onto another raised platform, from which they are scattered on the street. The mixer has its own boiler and engine, and everything about it is complete in every way. The steam roller and engine is used to move it when necessary.

SUNDAY SERVICES.

Mr. O. L. Hill will sing at the morning service and Miss Emma Wharton at the evening service at the Christian church to morrow. The pastor, Russell F. Thrapp, will preach in the morning from the subject, "Man's Ignorance and God's Knowledge."

The evening sermon will be the fourth in the series now being delivered. Subject: "Books and Reading."

TAKING DESPERATE CHANCES

It is true that many contract colds and recover from them without taking any precaution or treatment, and a knowledge of this fact leads others to take their chances instead of giving their colds the needed attention. It should be borne in mind that every cold weakens the lungs, lowers the vitality, makes the system less able to withstand each succeeding cold and paves the way for more serious diseases. Can you afford to take such desperate chances when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, famous for its cures of colds, can be had for a trifle? For sale by all leading druggist.

WHAT FEW OF US KNEW.

Denver Post, May 23: Few persons knew that there was a pathos in the late city campaign, appealing to every heart, if every heart had known. John W. Springer, Republican candidate for mayor, had lived many years in the shadow of the slow but sure passing from this earth of the woman he loved. The end was near. And, as it came nearer, his party called him to bear its standard as candidate for mayor. There are times, in every strong man's life, when a fight and a battle come to him as water to the parched and cracked mouth of one dying of thirst, or as a gulp of brandy to the wounded soldier.

It is not necessary to know the inmost thoughts of Mr. Springer to realize that, when the shadow finally blotted out all the light, he rushed fiercely into the campaign to take and give blows, to struggle with other strong men for the mastery, hoping, as the last beams of earth enabled Her to see, he could lay at Her feet the guerdon of victory.

But fate willed otherwise, and fresh from the field where the enemy was strongest and wielded the heaviest weapons, the husband bowed at the bedside of death. John W. Springer's wife is dead. It was a pity that she could not hear the music of victory and see the laurels from her husband's brow laid beside her thin hand where she could touch them. If every man who loves a woman had only known, the result of the election would have been different. But who could speak of such sacred things in a political campaign?

Thousands cheered the candidate as he made fiery speeches—desperate speeches—little knowing that they were the product of an aching heart, little knowing that he fought with the primal instinct of strong men in the olden time who welcomed the crash of arms as the rude sedative for woe. And now it's over and John W. Springer stands in that bleak silence into which nothing may enter save the soft flowers of sympathy.

SEEKS DEATH TO STOP WEDDING.

Decatur, May 27.—The marriage of R. E. Roberts and Miss Hattie Cribbet, both of Moweaqua, which was celebrated here Thursday, came near being frustrated by a tragedy. The groom's mother, who, it is said, objected to the match, threw herself in front of the train which the couple took out of Moweaqua and was with difficulty saved. She was held until the train had left the station.

There is some disparity in the ages of the couple, Roberts being 35 and his bride 33. They were married at the Brunswick hotel in this city.

Jacksonville, Ill., Aug. 24, 1901.—For twelve years I have suffered from sweet diabetes and have spent hundreds of dollars with various doctors, with but little benefit. I was recomended to try a bottle of Teas Wonder, Hall's Great Discovery, and will cheerfully testify to the public that it did me more good than all things else put together and am altogether another man. I have persuaded many of my friends to try it.

AN OPEN LETTER.

From the Chapin, S. C., News: Early in the spring my wife and I were taken with diarrhoea and so severe were the pains that we called a physician, who prescribed for us, but his medicines failed to give any relief. A friend who had a bottle of Chamberlain's Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy on hand gave each of us a dose and we at once felt the effect. I procured a bottle and before using the entire contents we were entirely cured. It is a wonderful remedy and should be found in every household. H. C. Bailey, editor. This remedy is for sale by all leading druggists.

HONOR FOR MISS HARKER.

Miss Bessie Harker, daughter of Dr. J. R. Harker, of the Woman's college, has been awarded a scholarship in the Art Students' league of New York for excellence in charcoal cast drawing. Competition was open to the United States and but five scholarships were awarded, and the fact that Miss Harker was successful is certainly a great compliment to the young lady herself, and to her teacher, Miss Knopf, also. The Journal congratulates the happy recipient of the merited honor.

HOGAN ATTACKS ROSE.

In another public letter to his friends Maj. Dan Hogan, of Mound City, again attacks Secretary of State James A. Rose in his candidacy for renomination. This time Hogan, who is also a candidate for secretary of state, intimates that Rose is paying for the complimentary notices he is receiving in various newspapers over the state. The letter says: "Not having had any previous expenses in the campaign, he is now using his money to take care of the public press."

Secretary Rose refuses to give dignity to the charge by replying to it. In fact, he laughs at the things his old friend Hogan is saying and writing about him. At the same time Mr. Rose finds comfort in that part of Hogan's letter which states that Rose's candidacy is making much trouble for him.

KNOX VS. ILLINOIS

Dual Athletic Meet Held on Illinois Field Friday Afternoon—Visitors Vanquished—Many Close Finishes.

Illinois college won a glorious athletic victory over Knox, her old-time rival, Friday afternoon on the Illinois field. An enthusiastic crowd was present and heartily applauded the work of the athletes. Knox is a school of about 600 students and in defeating them Illinois has won an enviable reputation. The weather was excellent, being clear and cool. As usual, Carriel won the 440 and the half-mile easily. Orear sustained his good record by taking the 100- and 200-yard dashes.

Knox started out by winning first and second in the 120 high hurdles, but Illinois soon obtained the lead and won by a score of 61 to 53. The mile run was one of the prettiest races seen this year. Thompson started out at a fast pace and set the pace for four laps. Then Brown, of Illinois, and Lampe, of Knox, sprinted the last lap almost neck and neck, Lampe winning by a few feet. The 100-yard dash was also an exciting race in which Orear and Tontz won first and second by a small margin. McKown, for Illinois, showed up well, winning the running broad jump at 20 feet 5⅜ inches, and the 220 low hurdles. For Knox Lampe, Cavenaugh, Terry and McClelland did splendid work, each winning a first. W. Harmon, of Illinois, won one first and two seconds. Illinois won eight firsts and Knox five.

PLEASANT RECEPTION.

Prof. J. G. Ames entertained the faculty of Illinois college, the Mandolin club and the freshman class, of which he is class officer, at his beautiful home on Lincoln avenue Friday night. The house and lawn were tastefully decorated. During the evening dancing and music were enjoyed. Later dainty refreshments were served.

REUNION BANQUET

Annual Gathering of the High School Alumni Association.

Friday evening was a time long to be remembered by the young people of the graduating class of the high school, as they were formally received into the ranks of the Alumni association. The affair was enjoyed in the high school building, where the members of the association and the invited guests assembled at 8 o'clock to enjoy the festivities of the occasion. The first hour was spent socially, the recent graduates receiving the congratulations of their friends in the library room, which was the scene of many pleasant greetings. Prominent among the guests were Prof. J. W. Henninger, wife and daughter, who were welcomed by many. The young graduates were the recipients of many congratulations and good wishes for happiness and success in life.

THE BANQUET.

In due time Dr. M. H. Goodrick announced that the feast was ready and all were invited to the hall below, where the tables were spread in a way calculated to excite the admiration of all present. The array was tempting and the whole arrangement attractive. The service was of the best, the caterer and waiters all doing all possible for the guests who were served promptly and in a satisfactory manner. In an adjoining room the high school orchestra discoursed the sweetest music, much to the delight of all at the tables. The feast was fine and the bill of fare all that could be desired.

PRESIDENT T. H. RAPP

arose at the end of the discussion of the bill of fare and welcomed the graduating class in a well prepared speech. He extolled the value of education, praised the work done by the graduates of the high school in the past and cordially welcomed the members of the new graduating class.

E. R. BOWEN

responded for the class. He reciprocated the good feeling expressed and assured the older alumni that the members of the class of 1904 would do their best to fulfill all the high expectations and good wishes expressed. After further music by the orchestra spoke. Of his excellent address and all the others but a brief outline is attempted.

REV. W. S. PHILLIPS, '76,

"I have few reminiscences, though I was the first president of the association. This occasion brings to mind many pleasing recollections. In the new class are few young men. A man wanted to get to heaven for so many women were there and this class is surely near the upper sphere. My class had ten boys and three girls in it, though but one of them is here to night. The honors heaped on Mr. Bryan by the British were deserved. He is trying to encourage people to seek the best. Many graduates of this school have won honors as teachers and this place will ever be dear to me and my chosen home. Take the elevated in life. Few who have elevated ideals ever realize them, but we should move toward them. For all who have high ideals there is a reward. We must cast our bread upon the waters and we shall find it after many days. The men who have moved the world have had noble ideals and lofty principles. Education is the greatest power. An education magnified a man's power to a great degree. They can fill a greater sphere in life. For whatever you have a fancy that strive for with all your might, and the right will be yours. A fine oil painting will furnish a noble inspiration to the true man or woman. Seek that which is high and elevating. (Applause).

Then, acting as toastmaster, Mr. Phillips presented two speakers, the first of whom was who spoke of high school spirit. When we meet to welcome the new class we should strive to make them happy as possible. To our members high school spirit needs no definition. There was a class which all admit was the greatest one in the country. They still hold reunions and keep up the spirit and not let go. The new class should try to encourage the high school spirit in every way possible.

MELVILLE KENNEDY

spoke on high school men in college. The toast should properly be addressed as gentlemen and ladies. The school should not be a training school and should live up to the ideals offered. There are many attractions in a small college like the one in our midst and it is capable of doing much good.

C. W. BROWN

kindly agreed to speak on high school men in business instead of Hon. Andrew Russel, who was called out of town. The high school man is one who is on to his job. He is likely to succeed. The man who can make best use of methods and do the best with his knowldge is the man who will succeed in life. Ideal education was the theme of the remarks of

HON. J. MARSHALL MILLER.

An ideal education may or may not be schooling, which does not always make an education. The school teaches work. It is a mistake to suppose that education enables one to live without work. The student should keep in mind the intent of his education and utility should be the aim of all pupils. King James was called the wisest fool in Christendom. We need men who can do things well, be it one or many. We must have the technique and be able to cultivate the hand and the head. I am glad for the manual training and domestic science departments. The power to do the common things of life well is best.

MISS ANNA BROWN

spoke on practical in education. I suppose you prefer this theme Brown instead of well done. Facts and truth are the foundation of practical education. Manual training shows one how little he knows. Technical training is manual and practical. It teaches the cultivation of the eye and the brain. The material is composed of all the board will furnish. Some one said he hoped soon to see a new gymnasium on these premises and I hope to see it within three years, three stories high. Manual training on the first floor, gymnasium on the second and domestic science on the third.

HON. E. M. KINMAN

spoke on foot ball and Greek roots. Some here to night think they understand foot ball. In Professor Block's day we played foot ball with a flying wedge and I remember we took the leader, W. W. Phillips, for the center. Education is manysided. Any education is better than none. It is not necessary to possess so great a name as to do a thing well. To day the children are called on to study so many things that they are overburdened with books. Athletics may be overdone. Foot ball for boys and basket ball for girls are well. They teach organization and combination of forces. If you train a boy away from hard knocks you rear a coward. I hope to see the new building Miss Brown referred to realized in due time. A sound mind in a sound body is the greatest blessing.

PROF. L. A. FULWIDER

told of the high school outlook. The outlook for the high school is bright. There is of course much difference. The high school has great things in view. We have great things here, the richest land in the world and the established games, which are a great blessing, and they will go on and the school will reach ten miles into the country. The high school will add to its course two years equivalent to the college or university's first two years. This is the trend of the times. I believe in high school spirit, enthusiasm and patriotism, both of which are plentiful in this school, and let us say the Jacksonville high school forever.

On request of many

PROF. J. W. HENNINGER

spoke briefly: I am glad to look into the familiar faces before me and recall the charming years of the past. I should have been glad to see the audience in the opera house last evening and how pleasant this gathering to night and how many similar scenes are to be seen over the country. The life of Gladstone offers a proof that the greatest work of England has been to produce men. I like art, engineering and great enterprises, but making of higher ideals is something greater than all. Only recently England sent a commission to this country to study the resources of this nation. A British statesman said the Germans and Americans are beating his country in commerce and laid it to the schools and colleges of the land. My young friends, you are to be congratulated on the advantages you enjoy. Not long ago all this country was a wilderness, but now what a change. You were never noted for factories here, but you do make human character and culture, far better.

MR. PHILLIPS

offered some excellent advice to the young members regarding the support they should give the schools. He urged them to strive to make it better, broader and higher.

"Auld Lang Syne," sung with a will, ended the program.

MOTHER PAWNED HER SON.

Method Employed by a Woman of Mexico to Raise Funds.

That human beings can be pawned the same as a pair of shoes has been demonstrated by a woman named Elena Davalos, who whenever she was short of funds—and this happened very frequently—pawned her eight-year-old son Francisco for sums ranging between $5 and $8, says the Mexican Herald.

For a time she used to pawn her offspring with some neighbors, who used the little boy as a servant until he was redeemed. They paid nothing for his services, but exacted a high interest for their money invested in the operation. More recently she found a Spanish pawnbroker who lent her money on her son and also used him as a clerk in his shop.

A few days ago the woman redeemed her son from the pawnbroker, but subsequently found herself without money again and pawned the boy with a woman named Dolores Garcia, who loaned the mother $10. With this Elena went to visit a number of pulque shops and taverns, and when she had spent one-half of the money she called upon Dolores and urged that her son be given back to her. A quarrel ensued, a gendarme interfered, and the whole affair was disclosed at the police station.

Now the two women are in Belem, and the boy has been sent to an orphan asylum. As this offense is not foreseen in any code it is not known what penalty will be applied to the mother of the boy and to the woman who loaned money on him.

THE FOOTBALL WALTZ.

Novel Dance Game That Becomes Quite Exciting at Times.

A very novel dance, a sort of combination of a waltz and a game of football, is arousing much interest in Paris just now, says the London Mail.

Produced first in a musical sketch at the Nouveau Cirque, it is already becoming popular in society and has been a feature at several private dances.

The floor is specially marked out in rectangular form, inside the lines being six semicircles, two at each end and one at each side in the middle. The goals are marked by wide hoops. Only six couples, three on each side, can take part in the dance at a time, and the object of the game is, of course, to score as many goals as possible, the ball being driven by the feet only while dancing.

The couples are, however, confined to their own particular semicircle and must not move out of it unless they have the ball in play, when they can move anywhere until the ball is taken from them by another couple or until a goal is scored.

Waltzing goes on the whole time, and as one couple becomes exhausted another pair can take their place and continue the game until "time" is called, or the best out of a given number of goals are scored.

At times this dance game becomes quite exciting, and the sitters take a keen interest in the score.

Potatoes at $2,000,000 a Ton.

At a recent sale of seed potatoes at Spilsby, in England, all existing records for extraordinary prices were eclipsed, says the London Mail. Six tubers of the El Dorado variety were disposed of by auction, the lot weighing only five ounces. They realized £56 3s. 6d., and, as this works out at £402,658 13s. 4d. per ton, it constitutes a world's record. One potato sold for £11 and another for 10 guineas. Nine guineas was paid for a tuber that weighed only half an ounce. A stone (fourteen pounds) of a new variety, which has been named the Sir John Franklin and which had only been on the market a fortnight, sold at the rate of £3,000 per ton.

Vocation For Blind Girls.

Blind masseuses have been so successful in London sanitariums that the "art of massage" is to be taught in New York schools for the blind. Their highly developed sense of touch gives them a power that others lack, and they show an aptitude for learning the work that leaves those blessed with sight far in the background, says the New York Press. The blind folk are careful almost to a fault, and when a mistake once is called to their attention it is never repeated. Thus a great field is opened to blind women, and one in which there is no reason why they should not be successful.

Muskrat Hunting a Profitable Pastime

Sportsmen and boys of the village of Savannah are reaping a rich harvest in hunting muskrats which inhabit many miles of the marsh lands in that vicinity in very large numbers, says the Rochester Herald. Between 4,000 and 5,000 skins were captured recently and sold to the dealers at 20 cents each. Messrs. Helmer and Fitch report the largest one day's catch, they having secured ninety-four skins as a result of a day's outing. Another Rochester trapper had 800 skins to show for his season's catch. The furs are shipped to dealers in Boston and New York city.

A Spring Song.

There's just a hidden note of spring
That trembles through the frosty air.
At dawn I heard a robin sing.
Across the stretch of woodland bare
His clear, gay song rose strong and brave,
Then, drifting, floated far away
Until it met a golden cloud,
Fair herald of the coming day.

There's just a hidden song in life
That bore us up in struggles past,
A note that strengthened through the strife,
That taught us to be brave at last.
And moments when our life is dark
And all the joy has ceased to sing
God sends his message through the skies
By little prophets of the spring.

UNLUCKY "COPPERS."

At St. Asaph's, the race track outside of Alexandria, it used to be the custom to give return tickets for 17 cents. Most of the patrons would hand over a quarter and get in change a nickel and 3 cents. This copper money, according to the average creed of the gambler, was unlucky, so that the Potomac between Washington and Alexandria was filled with the copper thrown overboard by the men who were going to bet on the races. There is an old time race course man who swears that the stretch of water between the two cities is so overloaded with copper currency that it is well worth while dredging. He says:

"There is more copper money in the bottom of that river than all the mines in Colorado will produce in a year. If the government would only take a tumble and look things over it could make a fortune from the cents in the Potomac."—Pittsburg Dispatch.

A Test of Sobriety.

An ingenious test of sobriety is now being experimentally adopted in continental towns. On entering a public house the would be drinker finds that the only way to the bar lies along a platform about two feet high, ascended by three steps. This platform is about twelve inches wide and fifty yards long, following a zigzag course, with here and there an obstacle that has to be stepped over. One who has already had a drop too much is thus practically certain to fall from this narrow and difficult pathway to the padded floor, especially prepared to receive him. Sober ones are served in the order in which they reach the bar. If they require another drink they must traverse the platform a second time, and so on.

Example of It Himself.

The delegate with the scarred face rose to speak.

"Mr. Chairman," he said, "I'm for the resolutions all right, only I want 'em made a good deal stronger. We are here to denounce grafters and grafting of all kinds, and we want to make it so plain that no man who has ever profited by graft will dare to show his face"—

"Where would the speaker himself be, Mr. Chairman," yelled another delegate, "if his friends hadn't come forward when he got his face scalded and furnished the skin from their arms to give him a new face? He's got graft written all over his"—

Here the meeting broke up in a row.—Chicago Tribune.

A Masticating Wooer.

"It is with faltering penmanship that I write to have communication with you about the prospective condition of your damsel offspring. For some remote time past a secret passion has firing in my bosom internally with loving for your—daughter."

So begins the letter of a love stricken Babu. The writer continues:

"My educational capabilities have abandoned me, and here I now cling to those lovely long tresses of your much coveted daughter like a mariner shipwrecked on the rock of love. As to my scholastic caliber, I was recently rejected from the Rangun college, and I am now masticating."—Penang Gazette.

Couldn't Hide It.

The Russian police make practical use of the X ray. At Kiev recently a drunken prisoner was robbed of about $300 by cell mates. They denied the crime, but two-thirds of the money was found in their clothing, and the X ray revealed the other $100, which was in gold, snugly stowed away in their respective interiors. They had swallowed it. Against detectives provided with the X ray, the radium ray and other marvels yet to come the criminal of the future will need to be armor plated like a battleship.

Criminals Hate Him.

John Connaughton, principal keeper in Sing Sing prison, has not visited New York city for twenty-nine years, and there is little likelihood that he will ever do so. The reason of this is that there are in that city a great number of men who would welcome an opportunity to kill him. In his capacity as prison keeper for forty years Mr. Connaughton has earned the enmity of many desperate criminals, most of whom hate him with an intensity which would induce them to murder should the chance offer.

A Depew Story.

Chauncey Depew tells how after the Pawnee Indians had exterminated the Crows, when he was a boy, he journeyed from Peekskill to New York to see the great Pawnee chief, who was exhibited at Barnum's. It happened to be on March 17, and as the parade passed the museum the band played "The Wearing of the Green." Just then the great Pawnee chief rushed to the window and exclaimed to his medicine man, "Bedad, Moike, I'll see that procession if I lose my job!"

ALL OVER THE HOUSE.

How to Make a Convenient and Attractive Washstand.

In this day of hygienic care, when many housewives refuse to harbor stationary or closed washstands, it often becomes necessary to provide something to take their place. Ready made stands are to be bought by the score, but a most satisfactory one can be utilized at home by two boards and four iron brackets. The boards should be of smooth pine wood and cut the necessary size to make generous shelves. The upper one should have in the center a circular opening large enough to contain the washbowl. Both shelves should be painted with white enamel, two good coats, and when thoroughly dry screwed to the brackets, which are screwed to the wall. These shelves are placed at a comfortable distance apart, the upper one at a convenient height. From the edge of the upper shelf is hung a curtain of some simple washable stuff that can be kept fresh and clean. It may be a dotted swiss, a madras or a tambour muslin, and the drapery long enough to reach the floor. The lower shelf provides a place for the usual paraphernalia of toilet needs for the daily baths, while the upper contains the bowl, even soap dish and mug.

New Ideas In Table China.

The return to the old schemes of decoration in china is striking in effect. The day seems to have gone by for soft mingled tints and designs. In place of these, which have been for long in use both in the high priced and in the cheap china, one is shown broad surfaces of color, flaring flowers and the primary tints that were dear to the heart of William Morris and his disciples. The result is attractive, if stunning, and though it may be a bit of a shock at first to those accustomed to delicate hues matters are made straight by the information that the designs and colors are classic, since they are copied from the Spode ware of the early part of the nineteenth century. Should more be needed to raise the modern Spode in general esteem, it is granted by the statement that the ware is too costly to permit of its use except on the tables of the very well to do.—Harper's Bazar.

Chops In Paper.

Chops, birds and dry fish are most delicate and delicious broiled in paper. This should be spread with the best olive oil; then the article to be broiled, salted and peppered, should be snugly tucked in the case, turning the edges over several times and pinching together close to the meat. The paper will char a long time before igniting, and the contents will be basted in their own juice. The time required for broiling in paper is usually about eight minutes. When the paper is well browned the chop or bird will be done to a juicy, delicate and digestible turn. Serve in its envelope, which conserves both heat and juices until the moment of eating.

A large fillet of chicken broiled in this way is delicious and easy of digestion.

Household Hints.

Polished ironwork can be preserved from rust by an inexpensive mixture made of copal varnish mixed with as much olive oil as will give it a degree of greasiness and afterward adding to this mixture as much spirit of turpentine as of varnish.

Cracks in a cooking stove can be satisfactorily filled by a paste made of six parts of common wood ashes to one part of table salt, mixed with cold water. Properly mixed it will prove lasting and will take blacking.

To clean plaster of paris ornaments cover them with a thick coating of starch and allow it to become perfectly dry. Then it may be brushed off and the dirt with it.

Cotton Burlap Curtains and Portieres.

Curtain and portieres made of cotton burlap were never so popular. The up to date way to make them is to have a band of printed cotton crape seven inches wide all about the curtain and about an inch and a half from the edge. The curtain edge is finished with a silk gimp braid. The burlap comes by the yard, as does the band also, which is made expressly for this purpose.

A pair of dark green portieres showed a band of cream printed cotton, on which was a pattern of pink sprawling roses. Another pair of old rose ones had a band of cream with a red rose pattern.

To Clean Bright Ware.

Brass and silver ware are often neglected because so much rubbing is required to clean them. Here is given a very simple and most useful recipe: Take a cup of whiting and fill up the cup with cold water. Pour this mixture into a bottle and add one ounce of ammonia. Shake well before using. Wet a flannel cloth with this and rub the silver and brass, afterward polishing until dry.

Combination Furniture.

In this day of labor saving, space saving, money saving devices it is gratifying to realize that the home has been particularly blessed by the invention of man's fertile brain. A Massachusetts gentleman, who probably has a large family and knows the needs of the home, has contrived a combination piece of furniture which combines in one and all the advantages and comforts of no less than three separate articles.

In the early hours of the day, when the tired head of the family or his worthy consort desires a few minutes' repose, he or she may throw himself or herself upon the lounge, as depicted in the picture, and, perhaps, snatch a little cat nap.

Later in the day, when the bell rings announcing the advent of Mary's beau, Mary can push up the ends of the erstwhile lounge, when, presto change, she has a most inviting sofa upon which she and her suitor may spoon until it is time for him to catch his car.

Then appears the father with baby Jim in his arms. From beneath the seat of the sofa is drawn a side, which throughout the day has been concealed. The side is swung into place, and Jimmy is snugly tucked in his little crib for a sound night's sleep.

The Hot Sand Bag.

Nearly every one is acquainted with the virtues of the hot water bag, but many persons are perhaps not aware of the fact that a hot sand bag is even better. This is the way to prepare it: Get some clean fine sand, dry it thoroughly in a kettle on the stove, make a bag, about eight inches square, of flannel; fill it with the dry sand, sew the opening carefully together and cover the bag with cotton or linen cloth. This will prevent the sand from sifting out and also enable the person using it to heat the bag quickly by placing it in the oven or on the top of the stove. After once using this no further recourse will be had to the hot water bottle or the brick.

CURED HIS MOTHER OF RHEUMATISM.

"My mother has been a sufferer for many years with rheumatism," says W. H. Howard, of Husband, Pa. "At times she was unable to move at all, while at all times walking was painful. I presented her with a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and after a few applications she decided it was the most wonderful pain reliever she had ever tried, in fact, she is never without it now, and is at all times able to walk. An occasional application of Pain Balm keeps away the pain that she was formerly troubled with." For sale by all leading druggists.

The Medicine That Cures.

RENO, OKLA., May 11, 1903.

Wine of Cardui absolutely does cure sick women. I consider it the most valuable medicine, and it is the cheapest cure any sick woman can use, as it takes as a rule, only a few bottles to effect a complete and lasting cure. I especially recommend it for uterine or ovarian troubles, inflammation and ulceration, painful, profuse or scanty menstruation and it is a most valuable adjunct to use during the gestative period, insuring easy childbirth and speedy recovery.

It should have a place in every home as it is a true friend to wife, mother and maiden and I most heartily recommend it.

Dr. E. Buchanan
WRITER AND LECTURER.

Dr. Mrs. Buchanan is an authority on the science of medicine and certainly appreciates the great work physicians are doing for the relief of sufferers. But this does not deter her from expressing her views in praise of Wine of Cardui.

Mrs. Buchanan's high intelligence and long and successful experience render her advice of great value. Wine of Cardui regulates menstruation, cures bearing-down pains and relieves suffering women of the pain and misery to which their sex is heir. You have the word of Dr. Buchanan and thousands of other eminent women that Wine of Cardui will completely cure you.

ANOTHER WONDER OF SCIENCE.

Biology has Proved that Dandruff is Caused by a Germ.

Science is doing wonders these days in medicine as well as in mechanics. Since Adam lived, the human race has been troubled with dandruff, for which no hair preparation has heretofore proved a successful cure until Newbro's Herpicide was put on the market. It is a scientific preparation that kills the germ that makes dandruff or scurf by digging into the scalp to get at the root of the hair, where it saps the vitality, causing itching scalp, falling hair, and finally baldness. Without dandruff hair must grow luxuriantly. It is the only destroyer of dandruff. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

MATHENY & LLOYD.

(By Associated Press.)

Chicago, May 27.—Wheat—The market opened easier on favorable weather, July down ⅛@¼c at 86@86¼c. Extreme dullness characterized trading and had a tendency to depress prices. On the other hand bulls were encouraged by firm cables. The fact the majority of exchanges throughout the country would close to morrow and Monday greatly restricted business. A St. Louis trade journal registered a belief in a continued improvement in crop conditions, but traders appeared indifferent. Cash wheat at Minneapolis was weak and a report from there stated flour mills would shut down for a few days. The last half hour May became quite active and advanced sharply on covering by shorts. Deferred futures benefitted by this activity, the market becoming quite firm. After selling off at 85⅞c July rallied to 86⅝c. At the close May was up ¼c, July ⅛c, Liverpool ½d lower to ¼d higher.

Corn—Sentiment was quite bearish, due to liberal receipts and prospects of still heavier movement. A private crop report showing excellent condition of growing corn and increased acreage favored bears. There was quite general selling throughout the day, causing considerable loss in values. The close showed losses of ¼@½c. Liverpool unchanged to ¼d higher.

Oats—The market was quiet. Fine growing weather had a tendency to weaken July and September, but May held quite firm. Prices advanced ⅜c over yesterday's final figures.

FINANCIAL MARKET.

New York, May 27.—The volume of selling in to day's stock market was exceedingly light, but was sufficient to incline the balance toward lower prices. Imminence of a three-days' holiday added to general discouragement of speculation and was the cause of aggravated apathy of the market. Promise of growth in cash resources of banks to the extent of nearly $10,000,000 stimulated no interest in stocks. Of this amount the sub-treasury has contributed $1,645,000 as the residue of the $9,000,000 paid to banks last week for acount of the Panama republic and since depleted by recall of government deposits. The flood of currency from the interior, estimated upward of $8,000,000, in favor of New York is given an almost sinister import on acount of inferences of stagnant demand for money in business. Receipts of national bank notes for current redemption at Washington also amounted to $1,386,978 for the day. The amount of gold bars available for export to morrow proved to be only $550,000, but exchange continued strong and approached the level of profit on shipments of coin. Late covering by the day's shorts left trivial net changes. Closing quotations:

Money on call easy at 1¼@1½ per cent; closing bid, 1; offered at 1¼. Time loans easy; sixty and ninety days at 2½@2¾; six months at 3@3½.

Prime paper at 3¾@4¼ per cent.

Exchange strong. Demand at 487.15@487.20; sixty days at 485.25@485.30.

Sick headache results from a disordered stomach and is quickly cured by Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. For sale by all leading druggists.

IF YOU HAVE DYSPEPSIA READ THIS.

The old way of taking pepsin, bismuth, etc., to cure dyspepsia is all wrong. They may be put up in tablets or in liquids, the result is just the same. The object is to create artificial digestion, but this does not make a cure. Stop taking the pepsin, etc., and have your dyspepsia or indigestion back again. People use cocaine or opium for nervious troubles and sick headache, it does not cure Stop taking the drug and the pain and distress return. The only Common Sense Method is to drive out of the system the cause of dyspepsia and sick headache by cleaning the stomach and bowels and at the same time using a medicine that will act upon the liver. This forces through the glands of the stomach the digestive fluid that nature intended. In this way you cure dyspepsia. The medicine that cures dyspepsia by this method is called Dr. Gunn's Improved iver Pills. Druggists sell these pills at 25c a box. It only takes one pill for a dose. For sale by Lee P. Allcott.

The Baby's Parasol.

The fad for Madeira or cut-out work has invaded the baby parasol realm, and these covers can be purchased in any large store. For the mother who has time to do the work at home there could be no more pleasant task than to embroider a dainty piece of sheer India linen for a parasol slip.

After the design is stamped the pattern is run with embroidery cotton. In the openwork portion of the design the material is partly cut away with sharp scissors, enough of the fabric being left to give requisite firmness to the edge. The satin stitch is invariably used throughout in the real Madeira work, but some women prefer to use the buttonhole stitch in the openwork portions, as it is simple to do and is strong.

FOR THE LITTLE ONES.

Johnny Knew More About Coasting Than Spelling.

The following essay on the subject of "Coasting" was written by an energetic Ohio boy, who evidently loves winter sports, says the Cincinnati Enquirer:

"We do haft two cost in winter. But we do haft to be carfull that we dont get hert.

"I think it is dandy fun dont you? My slead is a nice riding one and I have a nice pear of skeights, and I can skeight good; But I can't skeight very good but I can skeight better then sum peple.

"And there is sum peple can skeight better then sum peple, dont you think so, I do?

"I like to cost dont you and I like to see other people cost, dont you?

"And I like to to hit bumps when I slay ride and were I slay ride there is 5 or 6 bumps and were you hit one bump and it wont take you very long till you hit nother bump and I think it is just fun, don't you and I like to slay ride dont you, and there are plenty of places to slay ride that sum peple never seen dont you think so I do?"

The Eskimo Dog.

"The dog is the only domestic animal the Eskimo has," says Lieutenant Peary, "but he manages to make about as much use of it as we do of several different beasts. It takes the place of a horse, dragging him and his family long distances over the frozen stretches. It guides him with unerring scent to the tiny opening in the snow which marks the breathing hole of the hidden seal. It rounds up bear and musk ox for the master to kill, and often enough when the hand of hunger grips the little snow hut settlement it yields up its life to feed the family it has served so faithfully and its coat to keep them warm."

Weather Indications.

When you wish to know what the weather is going to be, go out and, picking out the smallest cloud, keep your eye on it.

If it decreases and disappears it shows a state of the air which is sure to be followed by fine weather. If it increases put off your trip, for rain is not far off.

The reason for this is as follows: When the air is becoming charged with electricity you will see every cloud attracting lesser ones toward it until a shower results. On the contrary, when the electric fluid is passing off, then a large cloud will be seen breaking in pieces and dissolving.

Jack's Notion.

"O Johnny, O Johnny, why late for school?
Was the walk too long or the hill too steep?
You can't have forgotten the Golden Rule
That boys should keep?"
"Oh, the hill was steep and the walk was far;
I hurried along with my books and slate,
But if I'd a bike or a motor car
I'd never be late."

"Johnny, O Johnny, how quickly home!
The dinner bell scarcely has ceased to ring.
Was it the wind that helped you come
With magical wing?"
"I've rather a fancy, you know," said Jack,
Fanning his features to make them cool,
"It isn't so far on the roadway back
As it is to school!"

—John Lea in Little Folks.

A Strange Mother.

Our domestic cat, though tamed, has some of the habits of its wild relatives. It is apt to be quarrelsome, or at least unfriendly, when it has to be with other animals. Yet now and then pussy will show kindness toward others which we should not expect to see. A cat is known to have acted the part of foster mother to a couple of young foxes. A gentleman wrote to a newspaper, stating that on the ground on a Gloucestershire farm a person discovered a litter of young foxes. There was a cat at the farm which had just got a family of kittens, which were taken away, while two of the baby foxes were given her as an experiment. The old cat took to them, giving them quite an affectionate treatment, and they got on very well. When they grew up the foxes were tame and ran after people just as puppies would, but unfortunately they took a fancy to pay visits to the poultry yard and owing to the mischief they did there had to be sold.—Chatterbox.

PUSS AND HER BABY FOXES.

HUMOR OF THE HOUR

Bobby's Bargain.

Henry and Bobby, ages eight and ten respectively, were little boys who thought and had tendencies, in consequence of which, at times, they were a source of great embarrassment to their mother. Bobby, in particular, had the money making propensity. He saved his pennies religiously and his eye was keen for a bargain.

One evening at dinner their father had as a guest a gentleman who was a great horseman. The boys listened attentively to the conversation for awhile, then Bobby opened fire with:

"Say, Mr. Smith, can you buy a horse for a hundred dollars?"

"Yes, Bobby," said Mr. Smith, "you can."

"Can you get one for $50?"

"Yes."

"For $25?"

"Yes."

"For $10?"

"Yes."

"For $7?"

"Perhaps."

"Seven dollars, really?" said Bobby wonderingly. "Would the horse be awfully fast?"

"Well," said Mr. Smith, smiling, "you would not be likely to get a Lou Dillon or a Dan Patch, but the creature might be able to pull a plow."

Bobby thought for a moment, then, "But, Mr. Smith, could a horse you paid $7 for have a colt?"

"Possibly," said Mr. Smith gravely.

"I have $7 in the bank," continued Bobby. "I guess I'll get a horse. For if a seven dollar horse could have a colt and that colt have a colt and that colt have a"—

Bobby's mother and father and Mr. Smith became seriously interested in the salad, the youthful Henry began to fidget, the embryo stock farm continued to grow—"and that colt have a colt and that colt have a colt and that colt"—

Henry could stand it no longer. Turning to Bobby, he remarked in a tone of impatience, "Say, as soon as you think you have the worth of your money, would you mind passing the bread?"

Motherly Esteem.

"So your son Josh decided not to take the advice of that lawyer who told him he was not likely to attain high honors in the legal profession."

"Yes," said Mrs. Corntossel. "You see, Josh is right smart. He saw right away that the lawyer was afraid of competition one o' these days an' was tryin' to stave him off."—Washington Star.

"I don't see how it is," remarked the first young author, "that the manuscripts you send out never come back."

"I'll tell you, if you will keep it a secret," replied the second young author. "I don't inclose stamps for their return. Isn't that a joke on the editors, though?"—Cincinnati Times-Star.

No Room For Doubt.

"Is he? I shouldn't have guessed that he had ever read a line of Shakespeare."

"That's strange. Haven't you noticed that every little while he says 'in sooth?' "—Chicago Record-Herald.

FOR THE HOUSEWIFE

For the Library Window.

An attractive device for a library window either in a city or country house is a bench made of whitewood decorated by pyrography. This useful as well as ornamental bench should be first put into shape by a nearby carpenter and afterward the top fire etched in some strong individual design. The treatment may be a group of blossoms, copied in their natural lines or in some bold conventionalized method suitable for a flowery plan, either a treatment of chrysanthemums, sunflowers, big bunches of grapes and leaves or a branch of dogwood blossoms. After the pattern is laid in by the pencil the pyropen does the rest. The remaining part of the wood which is not fire etched is stained in walnut or mahogany. When perfectly dry it is shellacked and afterward gently rubbed down with a pyrographic paste.

ALUMNI WILL MEET

Illinois College Grads Will Hold Annual Business Meeting and Banquet at College Gymnasium Commencement Evening.

At a meeting of the Illinois college alumni, held Friday afternoon at the office of Judge E. P. Kirby, it was decided to hold the annual business meeting of the association in the college gymnasium on the evening of commencement day, Wednesday, June 8. It has been customary to hold the meeting immediately after the alumni dinner on commencement day, but as this hour afforded very little time for the transaction of the proper business that came before the association, the change was decided upon. A supper will be served to all alumni without charge at 6:30 o'clock and immediately after the supper the business of the association will be considered. The following committee was appointed to make the necessary arrangements for the above meeting: George L. Merrill, chairman; W. D. Wood, J. P. Lippincott, George Watson and Joseph Winterbottom.

FUNERALS.

MITCHELL.

Funeral services of Mrs. Clarence H. Mitchell were held Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the residence on East North street. The solemn services were in charge of Rev. Russell F. Thrapp, who spoke in a manner which tended toward the alleviation of the grief of the bereaved family and robbed death of the bitterness of its seeming reality. A choir consisting of Mrs. George Hoge, Miss Emma Wharton, C. L. Hayden and Frank Ploner sang a few sacred hymns, such as were suited to the sad occasion. The floral tributes were many and profuse and were cared for by Mrs. Thomas Heaton, Mrs. John Kastrup, Mrs. George Douglas and Mrs. Winter.

After the services the remains were taken to Diamond Grove cemetery and were there consigned to the earth. The bearers were J. Z. Scott, W. L. Leach, John Kastrup, Matt Wagner, Thomas Heaton and Robert Buckthorpe.

BATES.

The remains of George Bates were taken Friday evening to Mt. Sterling, where funeral services will be held Saturay afternoon at 2 o'clock. John N. Joaquin, John M. Vasconcellos and Arthur Seegar, of Jacksonville camp No. 912, M. W. A., and Emil Hagel, Claude Ackman, John Honefenger and Frank Arnold, of Central hospital, also accompanied the body to Mt. HOMEWARD BOUND

Students From Schools and Colleges Preparing to Leave—Many Departed Friday.

The exodus of students and teachers from the city has already begun. In view of the fact that most of the members of the faculty and students of the colleges here are seldom accorded an opportunity of visiting their homes during the months of school, it is not surprising that at the earliest opportunity they hasten to their respective homes.

The young ladies of the Woman's college are the first to start the homeward flight. Quite a number departed Friday and many more have made arrangements to leave to day. The great majority, however, will remain in the city until the conclusion of the commencement events.

Among those who left Friday were: Misses Bessie Hutchins, of Pana; Essie Cozalet, Assumption; Oma Burroughs, El Paso; L. Jones, Greenview; Bessie Scott, Berlin; Grace Jockisch, Little Indian; Geneva Lard, Springfield; Bessie Leach, Cornland; Mary Hughes, Hume; Hattie Leonard, Indianapolis; Margaret Triplett, Perry; Dencilla Peychouse, Knox City, Mo.; Mabel Quintal, Bluffs; Mabel Bruner, Englewood; Grace Cochill, Perry; Arline Hubble, Highland; Lola Runyan, Chandler, Okla.; Ida Toutz, Highland.

Among those who will go to day are: Misses Marie Arthur, Savanah, Mo.; Lora Davis, LeMar, Mo.; Clara Huntsinger, Pinckneysville; Lillian Iker, Blanchard, Iowa; Lela Hughes, Trenton, Mo.; Ruby Hildreth, Frankford, Mo.; Stella Sheppard, Springfield; Hazel Menley, Urbana; Winifred Helm, Murdock; Lillian Switzer, Otterbein, Ind.; Clara Beauman, of Tunnel Hill. Besides these about twenty others will go to day.

HORSE RAN AWAY.

A horse attached to Fred Hubsch's delivery wagon ran away on East North street Friday afternoon. Running east down the street, it struck the C. & A. yards and turned toward the south. At the freight house the wagon collided with a freight car, the impact smashing it to kindling wood. The horse proceeded down the tracks to East State street, turned east and went home.

LOST HIS WAY

Joseph Baptist Had Wandered to Franklin—Cared for by Wm. Whalen—Now at Home.

Joseph Baptist, the Portuguese resident who became lost Wednesday in attempting to make his way from the end of East State street, where he had been left by William Ledebaum, Jr., to his home on East College avenue, was located in the vicinity of Franklin.

Mr. Baptist was out in all the rain of Wednesday night and Thursday, and arrived in Franklin wearing one shoe and carrying the other. As he cannot speak nor understand English, he could not make his wants known. He was taken in charge by William Whalen, who cared for him until a Portuguese family by the name of Baptist was notified. Mr. Baptist went at once to Mr. Whalen's place and soon ascertained the man's difficulty. He arrived in the city Friday morning on the J. & St. L. His friends are naturally much relieved to learn that he had not come to any serious harm.

BURGLARS ABROAD.

Thursday night burglars entered the residence of James Murray, at 1127 South Clay avenue and escaped with a new coat and vest and about $9 in money.

The burglar or burglars entered the house by means of a window and took the precaution of tying up the curtains so that they might not interfere with a hasty flight.

The family was at home and heard the disturbance raised by the burglar, but supposed it was a member of the family. It happened between 1 and 2 o'clok in the morning.

Egress was made by a side door. The intruder left no clue to his identity.

LEAD US, OLD VETS.

Lead us, old vets, to the sacred mounds
Of those who wear immortal crowns;
To those sleeping heroes who wore the blue,
Lead us, old vets, we'll follow you.

Lead us, old vets, to where each comrade lies,
That we may pay tribute for his sacrifice—
A garland of flowers, a prayer, a tear,
We'll lovingly give him, year after year.

Lead us, old vets, behind "Old Glory,"
That we may again tell the story
Of its triumphs, its victory and its power
In that ghastly, dark and perilous hour.

Lead us, old vets, behind your martial bands,
Behind the battleflag held by trembling hands,
Behind that sacred banner we'll closely press
And watch in every wave and fold our peace and happiness.

Lead us, old vets, behind your drum;
Your fife's shrill voice calls us to come
And help keep step in solemn tread
To the honored graves of your comrades dead.

Lead us, old vets, this Memorial day,
To decorate alike the blue, the gray,
With loving hands each soldier's grave,
By strewing flowers on land and wave.

Lead us, old vets, to the resting place
Of your sailor dead and let us trace
Flowered garlands o'er the billows wide,
To sink and forever with them abide.

Lead us, old vets, we'll march in the rear,
We'll carry the flowers, we'll follow, don't fear;
Your strength may falter, your steps may lag,
But we'll follow in the shadow of that flag.

Lead us, old vets, to where they lie,
Again, and again, before you die,
We'd go without you; yes, 'tis true,
But we'd rather, oh, we'd rather, follow you.
